PTI Introduces a New Waste Identification Service for the Healthcare Industry

URBANDALE, IA (April 17, 2008) PharmWaste Technologies Inc. (PTI), today announced the introduction of Waste-ID WISE™, a new service that assists pharmacies in determining which products in their inventory are considered hazardous by RCRA (Resource Conservation & Recovery Act) and BMP (Best Management Practices).

Waste-ID WISE™ (Waste-ID Spreadsheet Evaluation) is a quarterly pharmaceutical waste identification service for the healthcare industry. It allows the user to select from a variety of industry guidelines. The result is an output customized to your pharmacy's particular situation.

"The addition of this new service was created for the PTI customers that prefer a service over software identification system." said Jeff Hollar, President of PharmWaste Technologies. "This takes the burden of database updates away from the customer and squarely on the shoulders of PTI. We have found that although the Waste-ID Software is a good fit for some customers, there was a segment of our market that simply wanted the analysis done without the installation and maintenance associated with software." says Hollar.
